

Biogeosciences, again among the top journals in the fields of Geosciences!

We are pleased to announce an increase of the impact factor for Biogeosciences to 3.445 for the year 2008. With this impact factor Biogeosciences is ranking within the top 10 among the geosciences journals. The Chief Editors would like to thank all authors, editors and referees for their contributions to this impressive success. This excellent ranking combined with the two stage open access publishing may be a convincing argument to publish your best research in our journal.
